【Background of the Agreement】

Kanadevia changed its company name on October 1, 2024, and has been developing a brand strategy to increase awareness, understanding, and penetration of its brand concept of “taking on the challenge, through the power of technology, to create a world that lives in balance with nature”.

The new company name “Kanadevia” is a coined word combining “Kanade” (from the Japanese verb “kanaderu” meaning “to play music in harmony”) and “Via” (Latin for “way” or “method”).

To further strengthen “Harmonious coexistence with society,” as stated in our management stance, Kanadevia has been considering the relationship with and support for music to create “harmony” in coexistence with society and all stakeholders.

Tokyo Dome opened “TOKYO DOME CITY HALL” in 2008 and has hosted numerous concerts and plays. The location of the center of the city and its ability to accommodate a wide variety of events have provided “colorful connections and heart-moving experiences” to customers of all genders, ages, and nationalities. The naming rights agreement was reached because of the above factors, and the two companies' philosophies coincided as “Kanadevia Hall” is a place where many people can enjoy harmony with each other and a place that can contribute to the promotion of music and other artistic activities.

【Kanadevia Overview】

President and COO: Michi Kuwahara

Corporate Profile:

Established in 1881. Today, Kanadevia has left its original shipbuilding business for the “environmental business” such as waste-to-energy and power generation facilities, the “machinery and infrastructure business” such as precision machinery, bridges and sluices, and the “decarbonization business” such as water electrolysis, methanation and offshore wind power.

On October 1, 2024, the company changed its name from Hitachi Zosen Corporation to Kanadevia Corporation. Through its business activities in social infrastructure and energy, we create value useful to society with technology and integrity to contribute to a prosperous future.

【Comment from President and COO: Michi Kuwahara; Kanadevia Corporation】

In Kanadevia Value, our corporate philosophy is that “Kanadevia creates value for society and contributes to a prosperous future with the power of technology and sincerity”, and one of our management philosophies is “Harmonious coexistence with society”. In addition, our “2050 Sustainable Vision,” which has been set forth as a new management policy system for our long-term vision, states our mission to contribute to solving various social issues to realize a sustainable society through our business, and Kanadevia believes that coexistence & co-prosperity with regional communities is one of the pillars for success (materiality) in realizing the vision that our group aims to achieve.

We sincerely hope that “Kanadevia Hall” will be a place that brings harmony to visitors and performers alike, just as an orchestra plays harmony.

【Comment from Representative Director President and COO: Tsutomu Nagaoka ; Tokyo Dome】

Since its opening in 2008, TOKYO DOME CITY HALL has provided a variety of live entertainment, including concerts, to our customers. We are always striving to provide “heart-moving experiences” to each one of our customers, and we are looking for ways to host a wide variety of events in the future.

Tokyo Dome shares the vision of Kanadevia Corporation and is pleased to announce that the hall will be starting a new chapter under a new name. We are very pleased to be able to create new entertainment value from the Kanadevia Hall, and we look forward to the continued success of this new venue.

【TOKYO DOME CITY HALL: Outline】

Opened in March 2008, TOKYO DOME CITY HALL is a multipurpose hall with a maximum capacity of 3,000 people.

All seating is located within 30 meters of the stage, and the stage arena shape can be freely changed, making it a multifunctional hall with a high sense of presence that can host a wide variety of events, including concerts, plays, and martial arts.
